Nerine Group of Fiduciaries has offered its support to the Thomson Memorial Trust. Nerine has stepped in to provide corporate services to the trust, an essential part of the necessary governance for a charitable trust of this nature.

The Thomson Memorial Trust is a non-profit charity set up in 2010 in memory of Keinan Thomson, who tragically took his own life, and his brother, who died in a car accident five months later. The Thomson Memorial Trust aims to provide assistance to those who have suffered hardship and the support can be financial or otherwise. The trust raises money through public events; all of which are open to anybody wishing to attend.

The trust's events have a range of themes from family walks to skydives, all of which aim to raise money for different people and their families. On Saturday 3 March 2018 Nerine sponsored a tribute to Michael Bubl , with all proceeds going to the trust.

"The Thomson Memorial Trust is a fantastic foundation that gives individuals and families a helping hand when it's most needed. Charities need support, not just in terms of fundraising, but in providing a robust and well-governed structure to manage their activity," said Keith Corbin. "We're therefore very proud to play a role using our professional expertise to enable the charity's organisers to focus on the great work that they do in the community."

Nerine will be supporting the trust throughout 2018 with events taking place throughout the year. Details will be posted on the Thomson Memorial Trust's Facebook page and website:
